Before Saturday's dawn artillery flashes were visible against the clouds thorities regarding 300,900 children for- to the north and northeast, and at times the sound of cannon could be heard. People on the roofs of the highest buildings watched the gun flashes until the early hours.

> for the purpose of regrouping soldiers who have fallen back upon the defence line, less than twelve miles out, But even more serious than the approach in that direction, according to observers, is the situation northwest of Warsaw, where some 2,000 Red cavalrymen are making rapid progress the Vistula. The cavalry's right flank, which follows the Prussian frontier, has been reinforced by Red infantry soldiers who have requisitioned the horses and are following closely upon the heels of the cavalry. The Poles say there is no chance of the Bolsheviki crossing the Vistula either below or above Warsaw, as the Russians have been doing habitually for 200 years in taking Warsaw from the west, and that all precautions in these sections have been taken. Put Faith in Counter Drive.

It is estimated it will require several days before the Reds from the north-west reach the river. Meantime, the
